

ISOGRID INSIDE

One look inside and you'll see why Maxm is among the strongest ultra light composites available. It's called IsoGrid. IsoGrid is a structural reinforcement of carbon and aramid on the inside wall surface that allows for dramatic weight reduction while maintaining phenomenal strength. The result is high performance, light weight components that will last through years of hard riding. Want to know if your composite can take the punishment? Just look inside.

For more on the "inside" story: maxmcomponents.com / 480-505-1812